

PROGRAM

The Hopkins Centre In Focus Research Series Resilience and Adaptation in Rehabilitation

Session one

Wednesday 4 November 2020

1.30pm - 1.40pm

Welcome and Acknowledgement of Country

Professor Timothy Geraghty, Medical Chair, Division of Rehabilitation, Metro South Health and Deputy Director of The Hopkins Centre

1.40pm – 2.55pm

Practitioner perspectives on system and service disruption

Dr Ryan Bell, Medical Director, Brain Injury Rehabilitation Unit, Metro South Health

Insight from rehabilitation services, systems and frontline workers across the continuum of care and into the community. With opportunities for positive change in the delivery and design of rehabilitation in the future.

Dr Steven Peterson, General Practitioner, NSW Health Virtual Rural Generalist Service

Everyday experience of community healthcare, system disruption and adaptive responses during 2020 pandemic health crisis.

Associate Professor David Trembath, Speech Pathologist, Advance Queensland Fellow and Deputy Research Director at The Hopkins Centre, Menzies Health Institute Queensland, Griffith University

A decade of change in days: Building more responsive and resilient services for individuals with developmental disabilities and their families.

Ms Kiley Pershous, Co-Chair, Statewide Rehabilitation Clinical Network

The impacts on, and adaptations made by rehabilitation services during the pandemic from the perspective of the Statewide rehabilitation clinical network in Queensland.

Dr Camila Shiota, Advance Queensland Research Fellow and Research lead HabITec project, The Hopkins Centre

Opportunities to innovate and accelerate use of technology across all phases of rehabilitation.

2.55pm – 3.00pm

Closing remarks

3.00pm

---end---